Headed By Bishop Restarick They Appoint Committee of Seven For Preliminary Work

WILL SEEK TO HAVE AN ABATEMENT LAW PASSED

Chairman Points To Need of Enlightening Young People On Sex Matters

Further action to permanently abolish commercialized vice in Honolulu was taken at the Library of Hawaii last night, when representatives of the religious organizations of the city met to discuss means for carrying out this

Commendation of the action of the territorial grand jury in closing Iwilei; promise of cooperation with the committee appointed by the chamber of commerce to investigate the vice conditions of the city; the appoint ing of a tentative committee to devise means for handling the problem, and the recommendation that the next legislature pass some law that will make impossible the condition that existed during the days when Iwilei ran
'wide open,' were some of the results of the meeting.

Before the close of the meeting, of was passed covering most of the points nt issue and calling on the religious or-ganizations of the city, as well as the churches and congregations, to assist gent in this respect.

"The situation however is improved. for a clean city.

Seeks Systematic Fight Rev. Charles H. McVey, who spoke last week before the chamber of commerce on the vice situation, urged his bearers to make the fight a systematic

This campaign should not be spas modic," he said, "but a determined fight until vice has been exterminated

Bishop Restarick advised a campaign education, and pointed out that whenever the young are dealt with along educational lines the impression made has been enduring. Ignorance of sex life, he said, is a menace to the community. These matters, which are now concealed, according to the speaker, should be made plain to the young.

James A. Rath, head worker of the Palama Settlement, declared that is was up to the intelligent classes, and especially for religious workers, to give light to the young. He especially urged that the matter should be taken

Wants Abatement Law

"We should go before the legislature," he suid, "and see that the lows nbatement law is passed. By a law of this nature it is possible to place the responsibility where it belongs. responsibility does not rest with those who are carried away by passion, but with those who permit their properties to be used for commercialized vice."

In objecting to the committee ap pointed at the meeting last night, Da vid Carey Peters asserted that Ha waiians, Chinese, Japanese and persons of other nationalities should be placed on the committee. It was explained that the committee appointed was only a tentative committee and that later its scope would be enlarged to take in members of other nationalities.

J. P. Erdman, in charge of the Ha-waiian section of the Hawaiian Board. offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved that this body of churchmen go on record as unanimously en dorsing the fight against commercial-ized vice and the effort to bring before the citizens such facts concerning con ditions as will arouse the community to effective and continued activity in controling prostitution and its attendant evils such as the illicit traffic in drugs Lauds Grand Jury

"That we commend the territorial so called restricted district and calling for its abolition, and further that we are heartily gratified at the position taken upon the problem by the public DEFENSE OF TEUTON press; are heartily gratified at the position press;

"That we support the resultant ac-tion which closed I wilet, believing that such action is based on a common sense method of cleaning up an intolerable situation and knowing that such action is in conformity with the laws on our statute books and the principle of sound

"That we heartily favor vigorous tions and congregations of the city to prouse in their own membership and within the scope of their influence a united and militant spirit that will offer unyielding battle to the evils represented in the system of commercialized vice and will array the religious of the ng for a cleaner community;

Will Support Chamber That we hereby pledge our support to the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce in its plan for fighting vice conditions and notherize the chairman of the meeting to appoint a committee of seven on organization, to be hereafter named, and that we instruct the secretary of this meeting to send a communication to the special committee of the chamber of commerce named to investigate the vice condition, such communicution conveying the sense of this meeting that we will cooperate and Ignatius Fenly, First Field Artillery, advice with the chamber's special com. Fort Schoffeld and E. L. Miner. mattee to the end that there may be continued and practical action.

Local Japanese Will OAHU SOLONS TALK Aid Health Board To Get Birth Figures

Consul General Moroi Says Consulate Is Working To Educate Party Lines Vanish As Delegation Nipponese To Register Visits of Storks With the Authorities

Pailure of many Japanese families o register births with the board of REAPPORTIONMENT WILL bealth, while at the same time they are recorded at the Japanese consulate has been pointed out in the board report The statement called to the attention yesterday of R. Moroi, consul-general for Japan here, brought forth the ex planation that it is the Japanese labor ers, ignorant of the law, who are re sponsible for this condition and that an active campaign of education is being waged by the consulate to remedy the situation

The board of health report points out that 977 more Japanese births were gation, Republicans and Democrats, met recorded at the Japanese consulate during the fiscal year ending June 30, and took preliminary steps to effect a 1916, than were registered with the board of health.

The board's report shows 3662 Japanese births registered during the year while 4639 were listed with the consulate.

In explanation of the failure of his countrymen to register their children with the board of health, Consul Moroi

"Since my arrival in Honolulu, I have made every effort to have Japauese residents register births with the territorial authorities. Every parent that has recorded the birth of which Bishop H. B Restarick was a child with the consulate has been chairman, a comprehensive resolution notified to immediately register with the board of health. "It is the plantation laborers, who are ignorant of the law, who are negli-

The number of those who have failed to register with the board of health has been much less during 1916 than the number during 1915 and I expect the number to be still less this coming

"On my trips to Kauai and Maui have repeatedly advised the Japanese of those islands to register with the territorial officials and the Japanese newspapers continually give the same advice to their readers.

'Some of the Japanese neglect to register births with the consulate as well as with the board of health."

Mr. Saeki arrived for a two weeks' stay in the Islands on the Korea Maru. He confirms the report that the Federal Wireless company is planning to open radio communication between its station at Heein and Ochiishi, Hok-kaido, but added that Japan's acceptance of the offer was as yet doubtful.

Mr. Sacki will inspect while here the plans of the Mutual, Marconi and Federal companies, and if time permits will take a short trip to the Volcano. He will leave Hawaii for the mainland and after inspecting the more prominent stations there will continue to Europe. He is interested only in the larger stations.

"Wireless communication between Kahuku and Funabashi is going on sat-isfactorily," he said. "More than fifty messages are being transmitted daily, and we expect this number to grand jury for its public spirited and courageous work in investigating the so called restricted district and calling the service."

The legislative needs of Oahn brought the senators and appresentatives to gether and it was the consensus of opinion among those at the conference hat the eighteen members of the legislature from this Island should work in harmony at the coming session to satisfy these needs.

Reapportionment Urged

Reapportionment of the representation in the legislature to give Onku the share of the sents in house and senate called for by the organic act and the adoption of an amended charter for Honolulu were the two main points discussed at the conference. These were to a common point of view.

The conference was held in the Com mercial Club where the legislators were the guests at dinner of Charles F. Chillingworth, president of the senate at the last session. Six members of the delegation were unable to be present. some are out of the city.

Action Is Postponed

Definite action was postponed until meeting of the entire delegation could be arranged. Another meeting will be called soon after the holidays. Lorrin Andrews as spokesman for the conference at the close of the meeting explained the purpose of the gathering.

"It was just an informal gathering arranged by Senator Chillingworth for free get together talk among the mem ers of the Oahu delegation. We wanted to find out where we stood on various questions vitally affecting Oahu and to see if we could get together and stay together during the coming session in furtherance of the legislative needs of the island.

"In the absence of some of the memhers no definite action was taken but it was the consensus of opinion that some permanent organization should be effected for the legislative session. will be arranged later. Another meet ing to discuss this plan will be arranged after the holidays

OUTLINE POLICY

Expected To Reply To Peace Of fers Made By the Kaiser's Chancellor Today

(Associated Press by Pederal Wireless.) LONDON, December 18-Great Britain's new premier, David Lloyd-George today will deliver the most important address which the house of commons and it may be the world, has heard the principal legislative proposals that since the former foreign minister, Earl brought the members of the delegation Grey, arose to discuss the entry of since the former foreign minister, Earl Britain into the great world war. In the press and on the lips of the people the importance of the speech which the new premier will make today is recognized, and the words he will utter are everywhere awaited with the most intense interest.

It is expected that he will reply to the proffer of peace made by the German chancellor last week, and will at the same time outline the war policy of his cabinet and the nation for the future. It is understood that he has confided to members of his cabinet and others in his confidence that he in-tends to urge the utmost activity in the conduct of the conflict. The new cabinet is pledged to "carry on the war to a successful conclusion with all the vigor the fation can command."
